Certifier A Statement from the NAB Code Compliance Committee as Released by Edgar Bill, WMBD, Chairman Virtual Reality as a Tool for Assuring Code Compliance in Facility Design and Construction

BOCA, National Building Code Compliance Manual Nov 30 2020 Architects, builders, and related design professionals are required to design any structure to the minimum requirements set by applicable codes. Failure to design to code can mean expensive change orders during construction, delays, loss of client trust and respect, claims, and even litigation. This book reformats the BOCA National Building Code requirements into four distinct job stages--design, architectural documentation, structural documentation, and specifications--all of which are addressed in checklists to be used on-site for quality control. This will be a valuable aid in "decoding" the unwieldy provisions of the NBC as it relates to individual projects at different stages.

Virtual Reality as a Tool for Assuring Code Compliance in Facility Design and Construction Oct 18 2019 "The objective of this project is to present VR (Virtual Reality) as a tool for assuring code compliance in facility design and construction. As an example case study, a VR tour of an office suite is presented to a group of Fire and Life Safety Code Officials, where life safety devices ... can be located, and building egress pathways presented and demonstrated to the code officials as a simulated plan review submitted for approval prior to construction. The code officials are also taken on a tour and inspection of the actual constructed facility. Their inspection records of both tours and their assessments of the use of VR as a design review tool for assuring that a facility is safe and built in a code-compliant manner ..."--Abstract.

This is a reference manual for both uniformed and civilian inspectors.

Code Enforcement in a Rural Jurisdiction Jan 13 2022 "Code Enforcement is at times an occupation of extremes. It involves cases ranging from the basic quality of life issues to serious health and safety issues. You will meet people on what is possibly the worst day of their life and you will be empathetic to their plight. But at times you will also get to witness their incredible strength and humanity. Some of your best days will be those where you are able to help a child or senior citizen who cannot help themselves, and help make a lasting improvement in their quality of life. Rural code enforcement officers face some different challenges than their fellow officers who are working in an urban environment. but many issues are the same wherever you are in this great country. Through this book I have tried to impart some of the wisdom that I gained through hard lessons learned during my 18 years in this profession. You must learn to work smarter, not faster or harder. The skill set that you are able to bring to this job, how you hone those many skills while on the job and how you conduct yourself with your customers will help determine if this career will hopefully bring you as much happiness as it did for me."
